Half red morocco over green cloth boards, four raised bands ruled in gilt (hardback). Palau 24959. Jones 1402. Chiappa: Bibliografía Barros Arana 244.

$125.00

First edition. "La vida de Philippi, consagrada al trabajo, al estudio i a la observacion de la naturaleza, presenta mui rara vez algunos de esos rasgos que dan movimiento a una relacion biográfica; pero ofrece útiles enseñanzas que conviene recojer i conservar. El presente libro que no puede interesar a todo jénero de lectores, tiene por objeto dar a conocer esa vida de probidad i de labor, los frutos que ella produjo, i la accion de Philippi en la cultura nacional. En sus pajinas he querido no solo tributar un homenaje a la memoria de ese distinguido sabio, sino estudiar i dejar consignados antecedentes i noticias que den luz acerca del orijen i progreso del cultivo de las ciencias naturales en nuestro pais," (p. 5). The bibliography lists 344 titles. A very good copy, spine rubbed, a few small chips to corners of the first few leaves, small stain to one index leaf. [35495]

4. [Biggs, James]. The History of Don Francisco de Miranda's attempt to effect a Revolution in South America, in a series of letters. By a Gentleman who was an Officer under that General, to his Friend in the United States. Boston: Oliver and Munroe, 1809. vii, 300 pp. 12mo. Later quarter cloth over paper covered boards, typed label (hardback). Sabin 5333. Howes B442. Spain & Spanish America I: 87. Griffin 3686. Amer. Imprints 17031. Larned 4000.

$100.00

*Second edition. To which are Annexed, Sketches of the Life of Miranda, and Geographical Notices of Caraccas. "An important narrative of Miranda's abortive 1806 expedition to Venezuela, by a North American volunteer," Griffin, p. 338. "A good summary of events, written while they were in progress, and the standard source of information in English regarding this important episode in the struggle for the liberation of the Spanish-American colonies," (Larned p. 451). Provenance: Library of James Torr Harmer, with his bookplate. Boards soiled, hinges just starting, though binding tight, title and endpapers offset from news clippings tipped-in to endpapers, scattered foxing and staining, owner's bookplate on front pastedown, still a good or better copy. 5. (Bolivia). El Amigo de los Hombres, y de la justicia increpa la conducta del brigadier D. Jose Manuel de Goyeneche general en xefe del exercito del virey de Lima, en el desaguadero; por la siguiente carta que le ha dirigido de Arequipa: belativa a otra, que sobre lo mismo le escribio el ciudadano imparcial de Chuquisaca. Buenos Aires: Imprenta de Niños Expósitos, 1811. 12 pp. Sm. 8vo. Paper-covered boards (hardback). Furlong IV: 2470. Zinny: Bibliografía histórica p.59: No. 8. Fors: Imprenta de los Niños p. 38.

$300.00

First edition. 29 March 1811. Furlong cites two editions. This is the "virey de Lima" issue. Attacks General José Manuel de Goyeneche y Barreda, 1st Count of Guaqui, Grandee of Spain, Arequipa, Viceroyalty of Peru (1776-1846), who was the commander of the Spanish troops in Bolivia and who had defeated the Revolutionary forces at La Paz in 1809. Two months after this document was issued, he signed an armistice with the political leader of the independentist army, Juan José Castelli, though it was soon broken and Goyeneche went on to occupy all of upper Peru. Small chips to spine ends, lacking half of the free front endpaper, catalogue listing tipped-in to verso; contents trimmed, scattered wormholes affecting a few letters of text, else clean. [37071]

6. Bonnycastle, R.H. Spanish America; or a Descriptive, Historical, and Geographical Account of the Dominions of Spain in the Western Hemisphere, Continental & Insular. Philadelphia: Abraham Small, 1819. XX, [21]-482 pp. + adv. [2 pp]. Illus. with a map and color engraving (both folding). 8vo. Rebacked in style with tan paper spine over original blue-gray paper covered boards (hardback). Sabin 6333. Palau 32836. Spain & Spanish America I: 100. Lowndes I: 235. Larned 3909. Hill p. 53.

First American edition. "Illustrated by a Map of North and South America, and the West India Islands; and an Engraving, Representing the Comparative Altitudes of the Mountains of those Regions." Richard Henry Bonnycastle (1791-1847), an officer of the British army, "compiled his work with considerable care from the writings of Humboldt, and from the standard early Spanish books upon the American colonies. His volumes present a very useful summary of the condition of old Spanish America at the time when the several colonies began their career as independent states," (Larned, p. 443). This first American edition in one volume was preceded in 1818 by the English two volume edition. A very good copy, fore and bottom edges untrimmed, small marginal tear to map expertly repaired. [34449]

7. Botello de Moraes y Vasconcelos, Francisco. [also Botelho]. El Nuevo Mundo. Poemna Heroyco de D. Francisco Botello de Moraes y Vasconcelos; con las Alegorias de Don Pedro de Castro, Cavallero Andaluz. Dedicalo su autor a la Catholica Magestad de Philippo Quinto, Augusto, Piadoso, Feliz Rey de las Españas, y Indias. Por mano del ilustrissimo señor D. Manuel de Toledo General de Batalla en los Exercitos de su Magestad, &c. Barcelona: Imprenta de Ivan Pablo Marti, por Francisco Barnola Impressor, 1701. 14 lvs, [1]-10, 9-38, 1 lv., [2] pp., 39-268, 257-476 pp. Sm. 8vo. Contemporary vellum, title lettered in manuscript (hardback). Palau 33684. Sabin 6797. Medina, BHA 2027. Leclerc 75. Ticknor p.42. Inccencio II: 642.

$1500.00

First edition. Numerous errors in pagination. A heroic poem on the discovery of America by Columbus and the Spanish conquests -influenced mostly likely by Bacon's view of conquest as philosophical, rather than just military- written in Spanish by the Portuguese born writer Francisco Botello de Moraes (1670 -1747) who lived most of his life in Spain and Italy. Composed in his youth and never completed, with gaps left blank at a number of stanzas (libro i, stanza 78-107; ii. 60-80 ; iii. 103-143; vi. 88-228; vii. 54 -73, 87-128, 157-176; viii. 17-77, 102-301, 311-363; ix, 1-200, 222-262, 281-381, 383-449, 502-522; x. 134-162, 198-298). For an excellent discussion of Botello de Moraes see See Ruth Hill: Sceptres and Sciences in the Spains: four humanists and the new philosophy, pp. 191-244. Provenance: Ex Libris José M. Rodriguez MCMXXXVIII/ Bibliotheca Chizigonana on front pastedown. Boards soiled, hinges and small tears neatly repaired, owner's bookplate on front pastedown, corner chip to front endpaper, later inscription on verso of half-title, occassional browning, overall a very good copy. [35982]

8. (Brazil). Falla aos Americanos Brazilianos em Nome d'America, por seus Irmaos os Habitantes das Vastas Províncias dó Rio dá Prata. [Buenos Aires?]: n.p. n.d. [ca. 1811]. 1 pp. 12 x 8 inches (text: 266 x 164 mm). Letterpress Broadside. Furlong IV, 2522. Zinny: Bibliografía histórica p.64: No. 26. Solis, Latin American Independence 44.

$1500.00

First edition. An important document which exhorts the Brazilians to revolt against Portuguese despotism, overthrow the tyrants, and join the Spanish American Revolution. There were two versions printed, most likely in early 1811 (according to Zinny and Furlong). This is the first printing, with the text block measuring 266 x 164 mm and containing numerous errors which were corrected in the second edition. Not in OCLC. Copies at JCB, BN Espana, BN Argentina. A very good copy, a few old tiny stab holes at the inner edge where it mostly likely was once bound into a larger volume; small embossed stamp of Antonio Santamaria in margin. [37063]

9. (Briseño, Ramon). Montt, Luis, ed. Catálogo de la Biblioteca Chileno-Americana de Ramon Briseño. Santiago de Chile: Imprenta Gutenberg, 1889. frontis, xvi, 373 pp. Sm. 8vo. Publisher's red cloth, boards ruled in blind with gilt title, spine decorated in gilt, all edges marbled. (hardback). Palau 179804. Jones 1406.

$500.00

First edition. Number 8 of only 60 copies. Inscribed by Alberto [?] Gana to Carlos Luis Hübner, Chilean poet, and signed by Hübner. Portrait frontis of Briseño (1817-1910), director of the Biblioteca Nacional. Includes a short biography and introduction plus 8982 entries of which 7574 are Chilean, the remainder from the other americas. Scarce. OCLC shows six copies. Small tear to upper rear joint else a very good copy, spine sunned, ends worn, boards rubbed. [35745]

10. [Buenos Aires]. Alvarez Thomas, Ignacio. El Director Interino del Estado a los Habitantes de la Provincia de Buenos-Ayres. Ciudadanos: Aceptando el Gobierno á que me destinaron en calidad de suplente vuestros sufragios; venciendo toda la repugnancia que me inspira el íntimo conocimiento de la debilidad de mis fuerzas.... Buenos Ayres: Imprenta de Niños Expòsitos, 1815. 2 pp. 4to. Unbound. Furlong IV, 3185. Zinny: Bibliografía histórica p.140, No. 38. Fors: p. 53.

$200.00

First edition. Dated Mayo 30 de 1815. "Proclama del director interino Alvarez á los habitantes de la provincia de Buenos Aires, sobre las circunstancias difíciles del pais, por insubordinacion y desobediencia," Zinny. José Ignacio Álvarez Thomas (1787-1857) led the faction which achieved the resignation of de Alvear, and he was sworn in as interim Supreme Director on 6 May 1815. OCLC shows only one copy : BN Chile. A very good+ copy, leaf browned. [37083]

Fors: p.55-6.

$420.00

First edition. The Cabildo retook control, as stated in this document, which Zinny dates to 16 April 1815. On the prior day, Carlos María de Alvear, who'd been appointed to replace his uncle Posadas as Supreme Director on January 9, 1815, at the age of 25, resigned under pressure due to a mutiny among his troops, Alvear never had much support from the countryside nor from his troops, His negotiations with Artigas failed and his eventual attempt at seeking British intervention led to his exile. Thus the Cabildo "por la disolucion absoluta de las [autoridades] que la ejercian, ha vendio en declarario asi, reasumiendo provisoriamente por la premura de las circunstancias la Autoridad Soberana del Pueblo, con la extension de la facultades que le son propias y con la calidad de nombrar inmediatamente un Gobierno Provisorio..." Signed José Manuel Godoy in type. Rare. OCLC shows copies at BN Chile and JCB. About very good, with chipped edges barely touching first letter of text on a few lines, leaf browned. [37088]

15. [Chile]. Chilian Chicane. The Right of Force versus the Force of Right. [Philadelphia?]: n.p., 1882. 26 pp. 8vo. Paper wrappers.

$175.00

First edition. An anonymous criticism of "The circular which the minister of foreign affairs of Chile addressed to the diplomatic agents of the republic abroad," (n. p., 1881) concerning the Pacific War and issued by the Chilean Ministerio de relaciones exteriores. "The latest illustration of this larcenous diabolism is furnished by the Chileans in their account of the antecedents, origin, and progress of the ruthless war now waged by them, with the assistance of a confederacy of powerful and unscrupulous English merchants against the States of Bolivia and Peru. To anyone familiar with the real facts of this internecine struggle, the effrontery of Balmaceda in appending his name to the tissue of fabrications, now become notorious under the name of the Chilean Circular to Foreign Governments, seems sublime." Spine reinforced, front wrapper repaired, somewhat soiled, small tears to fore edge of a few leaves with old repairs, still a good copy. [35811]

16. [Chile]. El Crepusculo. periodico literario. Tomo Primero [All published]. Santiago: Imprenta de los Avisos, 1878. 40 pp. Sm. 8vo. Three quarter modern brown morocco ruled in gilt, over marbled boards, two raised bands, gilt title, marbled endpapers (hardback).

$400.00

*First edition. Hakluyt Society, First series: No. 33. From the 1554 Antwerp edition. Translation of: Parte primera de la chronica del Peru (1553). See Field 314. Cieza de Leon (1518-1554), was "undoubtly, the foremost soldier-chronicler of Perus." Field found the work "... a curious and very interesting history, particularly of the secret mysteries of the worship of the Incas, and the peculiarities of each tribe of Indians inhabiting Peru," (Indian bibliography, p. 76). "The work of Cieza is, in many respects, one of the most remarkable literary productions of the age of Spanish Conquest in America," according to Markham. "The second part of the Chronicle of Peru" issued by the Hakluyt Society; no. 68. 1883. Spine sunned with a few small soil spots, small institutional bookplate to front pastedown, owner's nautical bookplate opposite, hinges split but binding still tight; map fine, leaves unopened (uncut), overall still a very good copy. $650.00

First edition. Signed and dated: "El Ciudadano. Buenos-Ayres marzo 29 de 1813." Though Zinny and others attributed this to the newspaper editor Funes, Furlong makes a reasonable case that someone else penned this cry of victory over Goyeneche near Salta: "Que podamos expirar los ultrajes de trescientos anos! Que podamos con una legislacion sabia hacer ver a nuestros antiguos duenos y a todos los pueblos de la tierra, el medio de perpetuar la felicidad individual, y la prosperidad constante del estado! Esto es que os desea, compatriotas." OCLC shows 4 copies: JCB, Berkeley, NYPL, BN Chile A very good untrimmed copy, ink spot on margin, minor edgewear, leaves browned. [37077]

*First edition. Signed in print and dated 30 de Agosto de 1815. Domingo French (1783-1825) -name spelled incorrectly in the title- was an Argentine revolutionary, appointed lieutenant colonel by the Viceroy Santiago de Liniers in 1808 after the English invasion. During the May Revolution, he had led 600 men along with Antonio Luis Beruti at the Plaza de Mayo, and afterward, French created the infantry corp 'America.' With the end of a short exile, he returned in 1812 and took part in the seige of Montevideo in 1814 and then in 1815, as shown in this broadside, he sent his troops to Alta Peru to help the Army of the North in its struggles with the Spanish loyalists. "Corramos, pues, amados companeros, a ponernos entre las filas de aquellos campeones, para dar el ultimo testimonio al mundo entro, de que nuestras vidas las miramos en poco, cuando la guerra se hace por la libertad, e independendencia el territorio americano..." Furlong thought it important enough to provide a reproduction in his 'Historia Y Bibliografia de las Primeras Imprentas Rioplatenses' (IV, p. 624). OCLC shows three copies: JCB, Berkeley, BN Chile. *First edition. Dated 9 August, 1810. In Spanish and Quechua in parallel columns. Written in the midst of the war against Spain, with Balcarce advancing toward Salta and the province falling to the patriots, Iturri Patiño urges the people of Cochabamba, Bolivia, to "receive with open arms these heroes, these generous... Portenos, who, leaving the sweet peace they enjoyed in this city in their homeland, and have risked their lives to protect your freedom... to shake the heavy yoke of the oppressors from our sholders." Little is known of the author other than he was a citizen of "the noble, loyal and brave city of Gocha Bamba." Lehmann-Nitsche suggest he was an outlaw chased by the Spanish to Buenos Aires (Journal de la Societé des Américanistes. Tome 22 n°1, 1930. pp. 199-206). Nicanor Aranzaes calls him a mercenary, H.P. Kraus wrote that he entered and then left the Order of Mercy, but by 1814 he was a captain of the dragoons. No other copies known at auction since the Oscar Carbone sale of 1968 (lot 357). *Nouvelle édition, augmentée de la relation de l'emeute populaire de Cuença au Pérou, et d'une lettre de M. Godin des Odonais, contenant la relation du voyage de Madame, Godin, son épouse, &c. First published in Paris in 1745. Also includes the author's account of a riot against the French scientists in Cuenca (The folding engraved frontispiece is a scene from the second work, of the "tumult" in the bull fighting arena where the surgeon of the group was murdered) and the first edition tale of the wife of the expedition's cartographer, Jean Godin des Odonais' extraordinary journey from Peru across the Amazon Basin to French Guiana to reunite with him after a 20-year separation. La Condamine was one of those chosen by the Academie des Sciences to participate in an expedition to Peru to measure several degrees of meridian at the equator hoping to settle the Newtonian / Cartesian controversy over the shape of the poles. La Condamine was accompanied by his fellow Academiciens Godin and Bouguer and the naturalist Joseph de Jussieu; after completing their measurements, they returned by separate routes and La Condamine, who chose to return by way of the Amazon, ended up making the first scientific exploration of that river and the first map (included here) of the Amazon in which the latitudes were observed. "Written in a very lively and picturesque style, the Relation is full of interesting and curious observations. One of La Condamine's preoccupations was to verify the existence of women known as Amazons... This Maestricht edition is more difficult to find than the Paris edition," Borba de Moraes, Bibliographia Brasiliana, p. 380. First edition. A call for justice, prudence and respect for the law, with a warning. "No olvideis que teneis casi á la vista un vecino que asecha vuestra libertad, y que no perderá ninguna ocasion en medio del menor desórden. Tened por cierto que no podreis por ahora subsistir sin la union con las provincias interiores del reino, y que vuestras deliberaciones serán frustradas, si no nacen de la ley, ó del consentimiento general de todos aquellos pueblos. Así, pues, medita bien sobre vuestra situacion actual, no sea que el remedio para precaver los males que temeis, acelere vuestra destruccion." Medina dates the item as 28 de mayo de 1810 according to a handwritten note on the copy at the BN Chile. Scarce. OCLC shows only two copies: JCB and Berkeley. One at BN Chile. A very good copy, boards rubbed, owner's bookplate on front pastedown, leaves mounted to stubs, a few small worm holes, mostly marginal, affecting only one letter of text. [37069]

$575.00

First edition. A remarkable document issued at a particularly critical moment in Argentine history, this letter concerns the formation of a federal government in the provinces of Buenos Aires, Santa Fé, and Entre Ríos by the selection of representatives from each. Lopez announces that his representatives have been elected and calls for peace: "Let bloodshed and our disputes stop and let us have a stable reconciliation so that we can leave behind this state of anarchy." López (1786-1839), Caudillo of Santa Fe from 1818 to 1838, was a supporter of Rosas and favored federalism. Martín Rodríguez was a major political leader. After Dorrego's defeat in 1820, he became Governor of Buenos Aires, and arranged the Bernegas Treaty (1820) that established a truce between the Mesopotamian Provinces and Buenos Aires. Provenance: Antonio Santamarina (blind stamp). Scarce. OCLC shows a single copy: JCB. A very good copy, small blind stamp in lower margin, light foxing to fore edge. [37092]

$500.00

First edition. Signed in print by Jose Maria Flores (Governor of San Luis Potosi) and Dario Reyes. Republication of the decree of December 7th, 1844 naming José Joaquín de Herrera interim president. Herrera (1792-1854), a moderate Mexican politician, was first appointed interim president in September for 9 days to substitute for General Valentín Canalizo who was away from the capital (and who had been appointed to replace Santa Anna, but was in fact only a proxy for him). Canalizo fought with the anti-Santa Anna congress and finally issued a decree suspending the Congress in early December; a revolt ensued and by December 6 the revolution had spread throughout the country. Troops of the La Acordada barracks took Canalizo prisoner, the Senate voted to replace Canalizo, and named Herrera interim president, a position he held until the end of 1845. He would become president a third time, in 1848, after the end of the Mexican-American War. OCLC shows no copies of this printing, two copies of the decree of the 7th are listed: Brown and Berkeley. A very good copy, date in a later hand at lower left margin, minor edgewear, else clean. [35710]

*First edition. Tipped-in compliments card from William Windom (1827-1891), President of the Railroad, Minnesota congressman (1859-1869), senator (1871-1881), and treasury secretary (1881, 1889-1891). He led a group of New England financiers who formed The American and Mexican Pacific Railway (whose corporate name was the Texas, Topolobampo and Pacific Railroad and Telegraph Company.) They were all part of a utopian socialist project conceived by Albert Kimsey Owen who had received a concession in 1881 from the Mexican Government to build nearly 2000 miles of track from Topolobampo Bay to Piedras Negras as well as a town at Topolobampo harbor. All are described here in great detail. The colony failed and in 1900, a group of Kansas City bankers along with Owen formed the Kansas City, Mexico and Orient Railway Company which had a line to Topolobampo operational by 1909. *First American edition. Originally published in French in 1857. "The Tierra de Guarra of the time of Las Casas remained for three centuries not only the Land of War, but the land of mystery. A vast tract of territory in Guatemala, inhabited by the fierce Itzas and Locandons, whose wars are recorded by Villagnatierre; was for the first time visited by a peaceful traveler in 1846. The adventurous Frenchman, whose literary thirst impelled him to explore this mysterious country, recorded his observations in a manner which entitles them to more credence than could be fairly claimed by many of his countryman. His work is largely composed of details of his intercourse with the modern Indians, and of his examinations of the relics of the ancient inhabitants," Field Auction. *First English Language edition. From the French translation of Felix Esprit de Lourmel. Includes the Letters of Gaetano Cattaneo of the Society of Jesus to his brother and Extract of a voyage to the East Indies through Paraguay, Chile, etc, by F. Florentine de Bourges a Capuchin, 1712. "Muratori's relation of the Jesuit missions in Paraguay is very highly esteemed, having been composed in great part from documents written by various Jesuit missionaries and travellers, furnished to Muratori by Father Gaetan Cattanio, a missionary of the brotherhood of Jesus, in Paraguay. The latter was born in Modena, in 1696, and died in Paraguay, in 1733. His letters, published as an appendix to this work, are exceedingly interesting in affording descriptions of the Indians of Paraguay at this early day. The historian is said also to have derived no small portion of his work from the communications of Santo Bueno, Viceroy of Peru," (Field, Indian Bibliography). $375.00

*First edition. In this document, Alvarez objects to changes in the articles of the Provisional statute which he feels limits the functioning of the Supreme Leader and thus endangers the country. "El director Alvarez pone de manifiesto las necesidades de la patria y los males que se lamentaban para que se proveyese el conveniente remedio, en vista de la limitacion y subordinacion de su autoridad, y los efectos dolorosos que había producido Se lamentaba igualmente de la depresion que sobre su autoridad se egercia y que solo su paciencia y el deseo de evitar motivos de discordia y de escándalo á las provincias de la Union, de las que era obedecido, y á las naciones estrangeras, le hicieron someterse á tan indebidas humillaciones," (Zinny p.156). He calls for an open meeting: "Por esto he convocado a un cabildo abierto compuest de todas las Autoridades, de todos los curas, de todos los prelados regulares, de todos los xefes militares y civiles en ejercicio, y de una porción de ilustrados y distinguidos ciudadanos..." $1750.00

*First edition. Robinson was an English officer who enlisted as a surgeon in 1818 in the Venezuelan army of liberation, and was one of the first volunteers to reach Bolivar at Angostura. "The author has traversed the interior of Venezuela by its most interesting route; has borne a part in the sanguinary war which at this moment devastates it; has gone through scenes of extraordinary suffering; and has throughout, described domestic manners and public events with a freshness and a force which are rarely evinced by the professed writers of similar works. Perhaps no book of travels, since that of Mr. Parke, exhibits a journey of such event, such suffering, and such interest; and certainly no work gives views of the people of Venezuela and of the present war which devastates that country, at all approaching to these in accuracy or in interest. The author having written many severe things concerning Venezuela... [he called the people a "corrupt, stupid, beggerly and dishonest set of beings, chained in ignorance and swayed by superstition and the most gloomy bigotry"]... had desired to remain anonymous, but as he had since fallen a victim to the climate there, the work was published under his own name." Provenance: W. F. Clark. *First complete edition. Published in Archivos do Museu Nacional do Rio De Janeiro. Volume V. 1880. Added title page: Petro nomine ac imperio primo Brasiliensis imperii perpetuo defensore ... jubente, Flora fluminensis a' fr. Josepho Mariano a Conceptione Vellozo Ordinis monorum collecta, descripta, et elaborata anno M.D. CC. XC. Ex M.S. cod. Imperialis bibliothecae eruta nunc primo etitur. Flumine Januario, A.D.M. DCCC. XXV, imperii IV. José Xavier Veloso (1742-1811), born in what is now Minas Gerais, Brazil, was ordained in 1766 in the convent of St. Anthony in Rio de Janeiro, where he studied philosophy and theology, later Geometry in San Paulo, and finally natural history. He collected plants, animals, and minerals in the Rio de Janeiro area from 1783 to 1790 at which time he moved to Lisbon where he worked at the Royal Academy of Sciences while preparing Florae Fluminensis, his greatest work, for publication. Using the Linnaeus' system of sexual classification of plants, he prepared very highly detailed texts and 1700 prints, many of them of new species. But the publication of the work was beset by problems. First sent to Venice, the plates were never completed. Later the French invasion of the Iberian peninsular, sent the Portuguese government, then Veloso and his manuscripts, into exile in Brazil, where he died in 1811. In 1825 an abbreviated version of the text was published, followed by the eleven volumes of the Icones in 1827, of which few copies survive. The complete text was not published until this edition in 1881. A very good copy, rear board rubbed, edges foxed, binder's stamp and bookplate of Glasgow Archaeological Society on front pastedown. First edition. Replacement of General Valeriano Weyler (1838-1930), known by the Cubans as the Butcher of Cuba. Weyler was named governor of Cuba in 1896 when rebellion was at its height with the charge to suppress the insurgency. Like those before him, Weyler was at first unable to successfully combat the guerrilla tactics of the rebels, but soon began a policy of establishing "reconcentration camps," in which the local populace had to relocate or be subject to execution. By the end of 1897, Weyler had relocated more than 300,000 and cut the rebels off from their supporters. But "although he was successful moving vast numbers of people, he failed to provide for them adequately. Consequently, these areas became cesspools of hunger, disease, and starvation where thousands died. Weyler's reconcentration policy had another important effect. Although it made Weyler's military objectives easier to accomplish, it had devastating political consequences. Although the Spanish Conservative government supported Weyler's tactics wholeheartedly, the Liberals denounced them vigorously for their toll on the Cuban civilian population," (The Spanish-American War, Hispanic Division, Library of Congress). With a new government in power in Spain, Weyler was replaced by Don Ramón Blanco y Arenas who arrived and assumed power on October 30, 1897, the date of this paper and first day after a new constitution was adopted by the rebels. A very good copy, folded, with small tear along fold and some tiny chips to the edges. [34284]
