LINKING THE SIERRA NORTE DE PUEBLA TO THE OUTSIDE WORLD

1. ARRIAGA, FRANCISCO JAVIER. Expediente geográfico-estadístico por el ciudadano Francisco Javier Arriaga, diputado al 6º Congreso general por el distrito de Zacapoaxtla en el estado de Puebla. Mexico: Impr. del gobierno, 1873. 3 preliminary leaves, [5]-43 pp., 1 folding map. 8vo. Original stitched yellow paper wrappers. Not in Palau. $400

First edition. Folding map "Croquis del Trazo de la Vía Carretera Proyectada entre Zacapoaxtla y el Río de Tecuantepéc" 42 x 30 cm.

Project for the construction of a national road in the Sierra Norte de Puebla. First proposed by Francisco Javier Arriaga, a longtime rebel leader and colonel in Zacapoaxtla's National Guard, to gain support from the populace when he declared himself commander of the Northern line of the Army of Restoration in 1870. He argued that the proposed road system, linking the Sierra to the outside world, would make the area prosperous and would become law once the rebels won.

OCLC locates four copies: UC Berkeley, BN Mexico, Inst. Tech., Yale. Wrappers rubbed and edgeworn, a few pencil notations, some detailed, else a very good copy. Map is about fine. [44368]

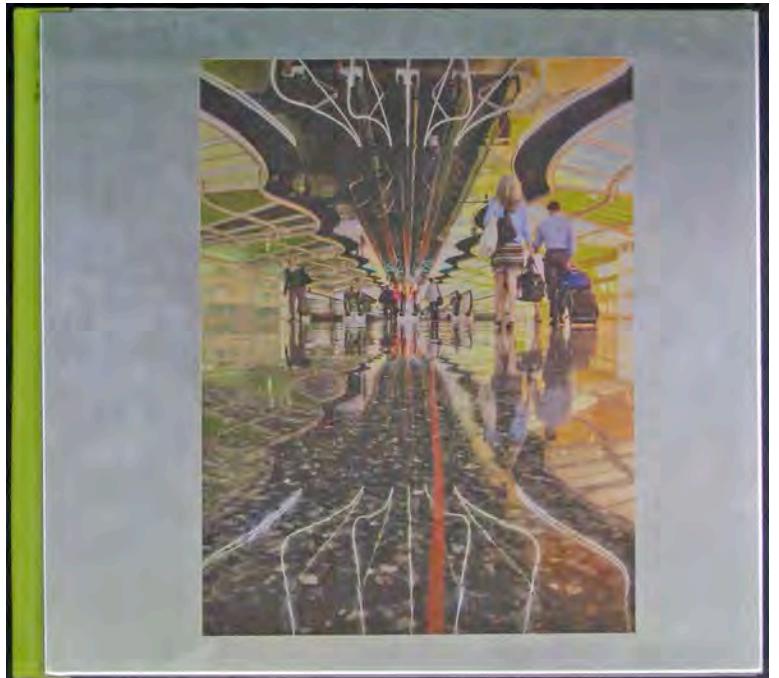

I, HERE, NOW

2. [ARTIST'S BOOK. MEXICO]. VELAZQUEZ, LORENA. Exit. Yo, aquí, ahora México: Bindu Impresion de Arte, 2019. 31 leaves. Illus. with 21 b/w photos of which 7 are double page panoramas, one inset kodachrome slide, five colored translucent sheets, one white lace paper leaf. 20.4 x 22.3 cm. Aluminum boards with inset photo illustration, green cloth spine, in illuminated electronic translucent clamshell display case. $3500

First edition. Signed by the author. 1 of 12 copies. Photographs by Lorena Velazquez. Text by Francisco Segovia. Translation by Fionn Petch. Printed by Carme Yael Diaz, Carolina M. Escobar y Francisco Lara on Hahnemuhle 200 gr. paper. Green translucent illuminated box stamped in red made by Corona Display.

Velazquez's brilliant creation - a mix of metal and lace paper, photographs and translucent papers, illuminated case- play with the shifting perspective of reality that matches and incorporates Segovia's powerful poem of the coordinates that define our life, our relation to the world, and our death, the three axis that are: I, Here, Now : Yo, aqui, ahora.

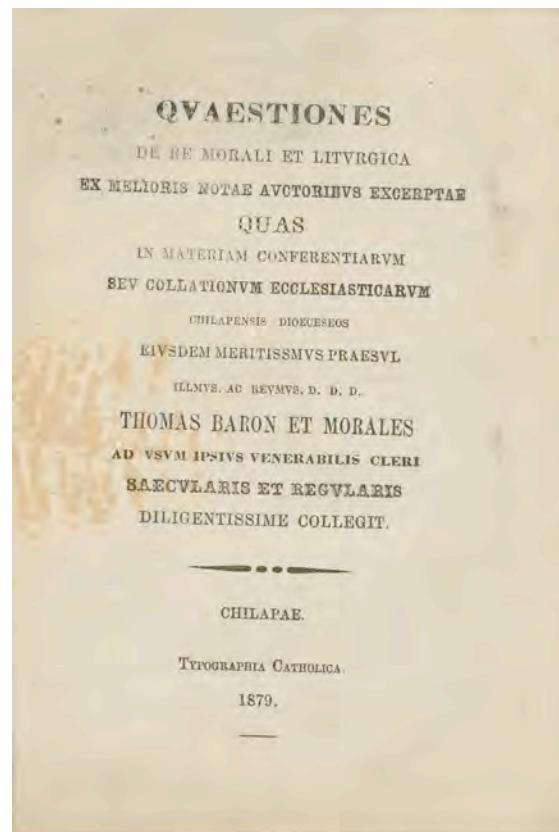

Lorena Velázquez is a Franco-Mexican artist, photographer, and book artist with work held by many museums, the Bancroft Library, and the Library of Congress among others. Francisco Segovia is a renowned Mexican poet, essayist and translator. Fionn Petch is a Scottish translator. Each of the ten pages of text contains both the Spanish and English versions. A fine copy. As new. [44429]

PRISONERS OF THE FRENCH AT THE BATTLE OF PUEBLA

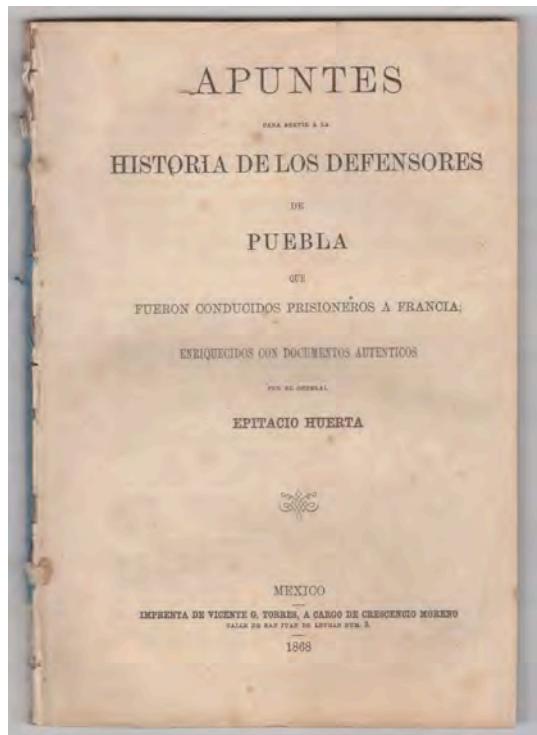

5. [BATTLE OF PUEBLA]. HUERTA, EPITACIO.
Apuntes para servir a la historia de los defensores de Puebla que fueron conducidos prisioneros a Francia; enriquecidos con documentos autenticos por el general Epitacio Huerta. Mexico: Imprenta de Vicente G. Torres, 1868. 92 pp. 8vo. Removed. Palau 116643. Sutro (suppl.): p. 277.

First edition. Epitacio Huerta (1827-1904) was a General, Governor of Michoacán from 1858 to 1862, and a liberal, anti-church reformer. He begins his record of the soldiers at the siege of Puebla thus:

"Pero quiero hablar de los defensores de Puebla en el extranjero: de ese grupo de bravos que soportó la situación mas critica, sosteniendo el brillo de su gloria y despreciando con dignidad las ofertas seductoras del Emperador francés, para volver algún dia á empunar las armas contra el enemigo de la patria; quiero hablar de esos nobles prisioneros, mártires gloriosos, cuya vida en el infortunio fué tan heroica; y mi pluma correrá fácilmente, pagando homenaje sincero á la verdad, y haciendo cumplida justicia al mérito de aquellos."

Surprisingly uncommon in the trade. Removed from a larger volume else very good, paper remnants on spine, minor edge wear and creasing, scattered soiling, small puncture to fore edge, contents clean. [44359]

First edition. In addition to being one of "the most important and one of the rarest books on the history of the Basque provinces", containing much information on many of America's colonizers, "it is of special interest" for its first description of "the conquest of the province of Ytza by Martin de Ursua y Arizmendi, count of Lizarraga Vengoa, native of the valley of Valdorba" (Le Clerc 1878) on pages 207 to 279.

Martín de Ursúa y Arizmendi (1653-1715), a Spanish Basque conquistador in Central America headed the 1696–97 military expedition which led to the fall of the last significant independent Maya stronghold, Nojpetén, located on an island in Lake Petén Itzá in the northern Petén Basin region of present-day Guatemala. "This political and ritual center was densely covered with temples, royal palaces, and thatched houses, and its capture represented a decisive moment in the final chapter of the Spanish conquest of the Mayas. The capture of Nojpeten climaxed more than two years of preparation by the Spaniards. The conquest, far from being final, initiated years of continued struggle between Yucatecan and Guatemalan Spaniards and native Maya groups for control over the surrounding forests. Despite protracted resistance from the native inhabitants, thousands of them were forced to move into mission towns, though in 1704 the Mayas staged an abortive and bloody rebellion that threatened to recapture Nojpeten from the Spaniards" (Grant Jones: The Conquest of the Last Maya Kingdom. Stanford U. P., 1998).

Martín de Ursúa would go on to become Governor and Captain General of the Provinces of Yzta, Cozumel and Tabasco and later Governor and Captain General of the Philippines. A very good copy, vellum rubbed, minor wear, hinge strengthened, scattered foxing, marginal finger soiling, small dampstain to corner of several leaves, some offsetting to engravings, minor tears, one chip affecting a few lines of text, scattered creasing, one marginal notation inked in. SIGNED FIRST EDITION OF 18TH C. MEXICAN MINING LAWS

23. GALVEZ, JOSEF DE; COMPILER. NEW SPAIN. TRIBUNAL DE MINERÍA. Reales Ordenanzas para la dirección, Regimen y Gobierno del Importante cuerpo de la Minería de Nueva-España, y de su Real Tribunal General. De orden de su Magestad. Madrid: n.p., 1783. [2 lvs], xlvi, 214 pp. Illus. with an engraving by Joaquin Fabregat of the Spanish arms and depicting mining implements. Folio. Full contemporary cat's paw vellum. Sabin 56260. Palau 203088 & 251937. Medina BHA V: 5040. Maffei/Figueroa Bibl. Esp. Minerales.

First edition. Signed in ink with Galvez' paraph under his printed name. First edition of this "rare and valuable compendium of the old mining laws and mineral customs, printed only for the use of the parties concerned," (Sabin) and meant to govern the workings of silver mining in New Spain. Galvez was a special Minister of the Indies who was instructed to reform the mining laws of Mexico. In this work, which could only be owned by Spanish-born miners, he not only transcribed all the royal decrees concerning mining in New Spain but also provided information concerning mining operations, training, discovery of new mines, and technology and governance. Signed in manuscript with his rubric attesting to the accuracy of the copy. Further editions were published in 1785/6 in Lima (both folio and quarto) and in Santiago in 1833. Boards worn with some loss to the tail of the spine hinges split though firm, dampstained along bottom edge, some ink smudges especially to edges of frontispiece, section titles in manuscript on each page, otherwise contents quite sharp, and overall about very good. [44308]

19TH C. MEXICAN PERIODICAL FOR THE EDUCATION OF WOMEN

24. GARCIA TORRES, VICENTE. Panorama de las señoritas. Periodico pintoresco, científico, literario. Contiene Varias Viñetas, Algunas Laminas Sobre Acero, Estampas Y Musica Litografiada. Mexico: Imprenta de Vicente Garcia Torres, 1842. 538 pp. + 13 plates. Illus. with 2 hand colored fashion plates, 9 b/w plates, 2 double pages of music, and numerous engraved head and tail pieces; text within borders. 8vo. Quarter green cloth over dark speckled boards, gilt spine. Palau 211332.

SOLD

First edition. Important publication for women in Mexico which had its antecedent in the 'El Semanario de las Señoritas mejicanas' of Vicente García Torres. The seventeen issues covered topics such as: history, literature, science, education, morals, and fashion, including vignettes, engravings, prints, and lithographed music.

As the editor noted in the introduction: "El primer alimento de la vida humana tiene su origen en el seno de la mujer. Vuestras primeras palabras os son enseñadas por sus labios: vuestras primeras lágrimas son enjugadas por ella; y vuestro último suspiro es con demasiada frecuencia recibido por una mujer, cuando ya los hombres han retrocedido ante el innoble cuidado de una en su última hora a aquel que fue su jefe" (Byron).

Most of these articles were published and carefully selected with the intention of educating the ideal woman sentimentally and morally through literature. Most texts were translations and copies of foreign magazines such as the 'Diario de la muger de París' and 'La Galeria de mugeres de Shakespeare.'

"We should emphasize the work and dedication of the editor towards the typographical details, content and presentation of the volume, which was intended, in the words of the author, to seek "only to represent the ladies as beautiful, as mothers, as lovers or as wives, as friends and consolers; I want to give the ladies a book of pure entertainment; Do not bother them, but on the contrary, serve them as a distraction in your leisure' (see Liliana Minerva Julieta Mendoza Castillo & Sánchez Morales: "Las revistas literarias del siglo XIX mexicano Educación de la mujer a través del sitio," in Revista Digital Universitaria. 10 de octubre 2004, Volumen 5 Número 9).

OCLC shows ten locations: Yale, Harvard, Syracuse, Missouri, Texas, Colorado, BL, El Colegio Mexico, BN Mexico, BN Spain. Edges worn and chipped, front hinge separated, pp. 95-96 detached, small tears to title, small marginal worming to about two dozen leaves, scattered foxing, still a good copy of a scarce publication. [44337]

FIRST PUBLICATION EXPLICITLY DEDICATED TO MEXICAN WOMEN

25. GARCIA TORRES, VICENTE. Semanario de las señoritas mejicanas: educación científica, moral y literaria del bello sexo. Tomo 2 [only]. México: Imprenta de Vicente G. Torres, 1841. 478 pp., [7] leaves index + [39] plates, few folding. Illus. with 39 [of 41?] plates incl. sheet music, some folding. 8vo. Full mottled calf, boards bordered with gilt decorations, spine decorated in gilt with morocco labels, edges and endpapers marbled. Sabin 79052. Palau 307266.

SOLD

First edition. Covering twenty issues from April 27, 1841 through September 7, 1841, this is the second volume of the three to be issued. Precursor to "Panorama de las señoritas," also published by Vincente Garcia Torres, and also meant for the education of women, since they lacked access to formal education in most cases. Each issue consisted of text, plates, images, scores, patterns, and included a list of subscribers, as this volume does. For a full discussion of this work see María Teresa Mijares Cervantes: La construcción del imaginario femenino en el acto de enunciación del 'Semanario de las señoritas mejicanas' (2015). Extremities quite worn, loss to heel of spine and edges, hinges just starting, loss to top corner of title just affecting decorated border, scattered soiling, occasional worming along bottom edge, sheet of music removed between p.16-17, two musical sheets partially detached with loss, and minor tearing to one chart. About good. [44486]

THE ONLY AUTHORIZED WORK BY THE FATHER OF MEXICAN MODERNISM

32. [LITERATURE]. DÍAZ MIRÓN, SALVADOR. Lascas. Poesias de Salvador Diaz Miron. Xalapa [Veracruz, Mexico]: Tipografia del Gobierno del Estado, 1901. 206 pp. Illus. w/ 1 b/w portrait. 8vo. Illustrated paper wrappers. Palau 72671.

$250

First edition. Salvador Díaz Mirón (1853-1928) was a Mexican poet often called the father of Mexican modernism. His work is divided into three stages: the first influenced by European romanticism; the second, to which this book "Lascas," belongs, was far more intimate and introspective; in the third his style became extremely spare. Lascas was his only authorized work of poetry up to that time; all others he declared pirated. It was most likely written while he was in prison for homicide. Very good minus, wrappers moderately soiled and worn at extremities, torn along edges, contents clean, partially unopened (uncut), one later gathering detached. [44478]

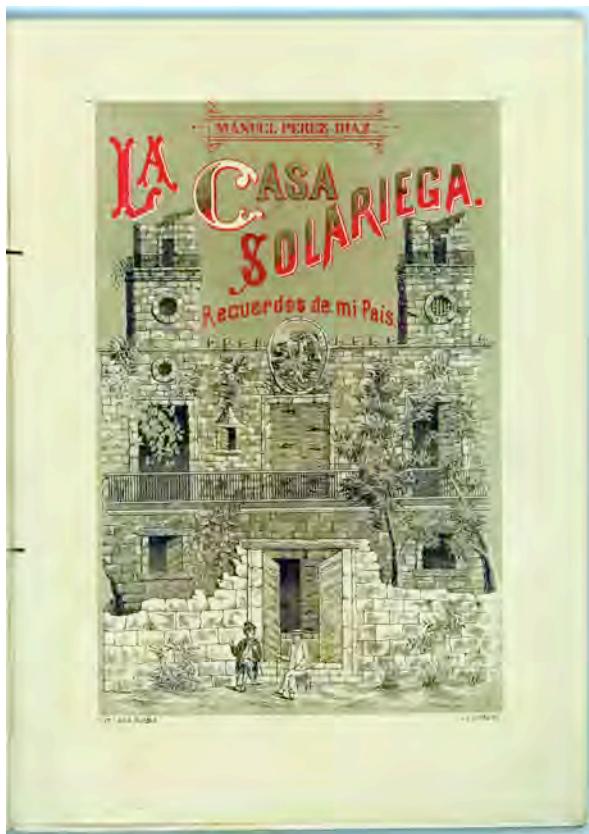

TWO RARE WORKS OF LATE 19TH C. MEXICAN POETRY

33. [LITERATURE]. FERNÁNDEZ GRANADOS, ENRIQUE. Mirtos, poesías [bound with] Album de la sra. Da. Feliciana Cuevas de Esteva. Mexico: Imprenta de Ignacio Escalante, 1889. 51 pp., [1] on [52 lvs. printed rectos only]. 16mo. Cloth, paneled in blind. Palau 88873. First editions. $150

1. "Edición del Liceo mexicano. 150 ejemplares." Enrique Fernández Granados (1867-1920) was a Mexican poet, journalist, translator, and academic. This was his first book of poetry. His poetry was translated into English in 1902 by Alice Gray Cowan. OCLC locates six copies: Harvard, Univ. Texas at Austin, Wash. State, BN Mexico, BN Spain, and Ibero-Amer. Inst.

[Bound with]

2. Album de la sra. Da. Feliciana Cuevas de esteva. (Mexico: Imprenta de Ignacio Escalante, 1890). 76 pp. 1 of 100 copies. A collection of 17 poems by 16 Mexican poets in honor of Feliciana Cuevas de Esteva, the wife of Gonzalo Aurelio Esteva y Landero (1843 -1927), a Mexican journalist, publisher, and diplomat who was the founder the newspapers El Renacimiento and El Nacional. No copies in OCLC, BN Mexico, nor any other databases. Boards lightly rubbed, small stain to top edge, light soiling, mostly marginal, a very good copy. [44520]

SOLD

Nueva edición corregida y muy aumentada. Francisco Javier Pimentel y Heras Soto (1832 -1893) was one of the founders of the Mexican Academy of Language. First published in 1885, the present work is a much enlarged and revised edition of a work "of great use for literary research in Mexico" despite his highly conservative views. Very good, minor rubbing to boards, hinges starting, but strong, extremities worn, occasional soiling, contents clean otherwise. [44590]

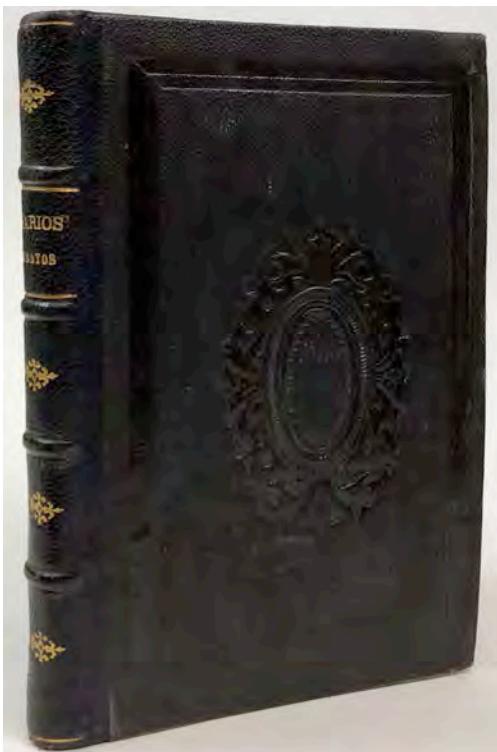

1 OF 60 COPIES

36. [LITERATURE]. ROA BÁRCENA, JOSÉ MARÍA. Varios Cuentos. México: 1882. 149, [1] pp. Impr. de Ignacio Escalante, 16mo. Contemporary quarter black morocco over pebbled cloth, ruled and decorated in blind, gilt decorations and titles on spine, marbled endpapers.

SOLD

First edition. Edición de 60 ejemplares. José María Roa Bárbara (1827-1908) -academic, novelist, and poet, collaborator on the newspapers El Universal, La Cruz, and El Tiempo, editor of El Nuevo Mundo, El Eco Nacional, and La Sociedad, and member of the Board of Notables that voted for the monarchy- has been an outcast author in the Mexican pantheon, except for his stories ,such as the much anthologized "Lanchitas," according to Julio Jiménez Rueda. Also included in this volume are "El rey y el bufon" and the novela "Noche al Raso."

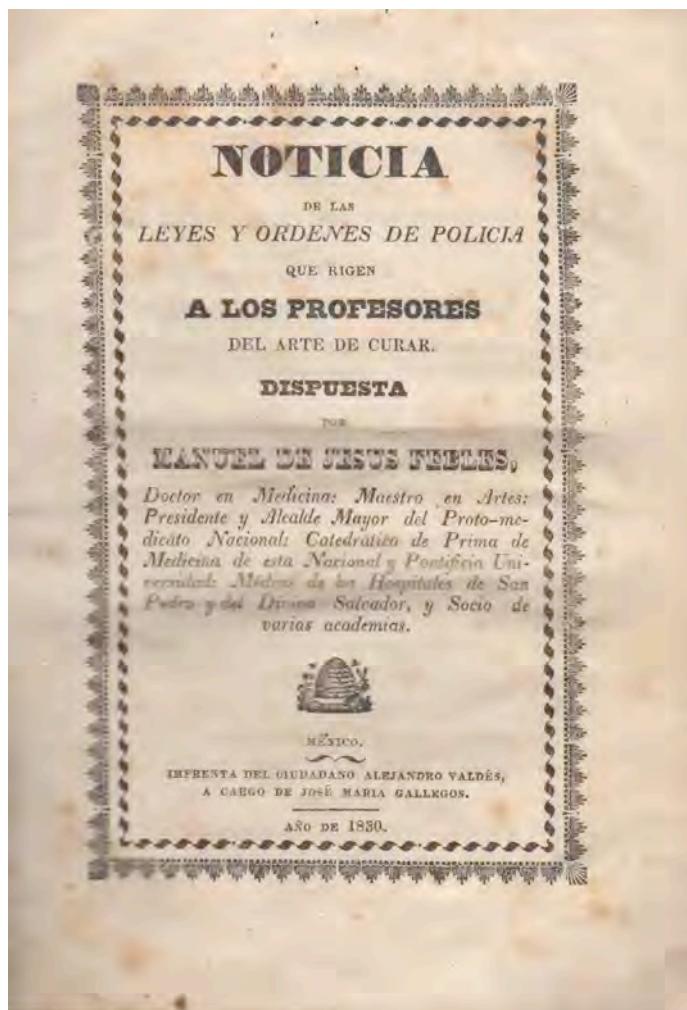

An author hard to categorize according to Luisa F. Rico Mansard: "Consideramos que la longevidad de Roa (81 años) y los constantes conflictos del México decimonónico por los que pasó, fueron moldeando poco a poco su estilo. No fue un romántico liberal, no fue un clásico consumado, no se encerró en una escuela literaria determinada, sino que más bien fue respondiendo a los estímulos de su tiempo de una manera propia que no nos permite encasillarlo dentro de una u otra escuela, sino que tuvo influencia y proyección de las tres arriba mencionadas," (Semblanza de Don Jose Maria Roa Barcena (p. 16).

Rare. A second edition was published the following year. OCLC locates only four copies: SUNY Stony Brook, Univ. Kansas, Univ. Texas at Austin, and BN Mexico. A near fine copy. [44366]

Publication in Vera Cruz of the announcement proclaiming immediate confiscation of ten million pesos of church property (mortmain lands) issued by Ministerio de Hacienda three weeks after Valentin Gómez Farias assumed both the presidency and vice-presidency of Mexico. The ten million was a reduction from the original fifteen million expected (see next item). But this plan did not go as expected, and the attempted liquidation of the church's institutional lands for this war revenue was much resisted by the Clergy and the Conservatives, and ultimately failed, leading to Santa Anna retaking the presidency again from Gomez Farias, in March 1847 just two months after this decree. Decree dated and signed: Por tanto, mando se imprima, publique, circule y se le dé el debido cumplimiento, Palacio del gobierno federal en México, a 15 de enero de 1847. Valentin Gómez Farias. A D. Pedro Zubieta. Broadside dated and signed at end: Jalapa enero 26 de 1847. Juan Soto. Vera Cruz would was to generate 750,000 pesos or 7.5 per cent of the total.

Dated January 11, 1847, and January 15, 1847. In order to generate up to 15 thousand pesos to continue to fund the war with the United States, the government is authorized to mortgage public (i.e. "manos muertas.") Decree establishes exceptions and procedures for the auctioning off of these properties. It had passed by a vote of 44 to 41 after heated debate. Broadside dated and signed at end: Jalapa enero 15 de 1847. Juan Soto.

First edition. Issued eleven days after the U.S. declaration of war, this Circular letter initiated by the Ministry of Justice and Public Instruction, was sent by the Bishop of Durango to all Catholic clergy, asking for their support and for divine aid, "auxilios Divinos", in support of the government and against the United States. They are instructed: "do not miss the opportunity to instill in them [their parishioners] the justice and inevitable need for war that our Supreme Government has seen precisely to oppose." War with the larger and more powerful United States is a war for the Mexican way of life. Should we lose, the Bishop notes, the Church will be violated: "este vendría à ser nuestro destino, ver ladearse amalgamados nuestros templos, los palacios sagrados fiel Soberano Rey de jos Reyes con las sinagogas de la impiedad.... Would we not rather die than observe this?"

Dated and signed Durango, May 24, 1846 by Jose Antonio [Laureano de Zubiria y Escalante] in type and with his paraph in ink and also by his secretary, Narciso Gendarilla, with his paraph. Provenance: The author's own copy (manuscript note at the bottom).

Scarce. We could locate no copies of this or similar circulars, though the Dean of the Monterrey Cathedral, José León Lobo Guerrero, quoted it on June 20th, 1846 in a letter (See 2016/09/17/ sociedadgenealogicaydehistoriafamiliardemexico). Old stab holes to left margin, edges chipped and torn affecting a small portion of text, light creasing and soiling, inked notation along bottom edge, overall very good. [44738]

Federal District issue of the decree authorizing the Supreme Government's emergency powers to "push forward the war, defend the nationality of the republic and save the form of popular republican government." Furthermore, it specifically denies the President the right to "make peace with the U.S., conclude negotiations with foreign powers, or give up all or any part of the territory of the republic: no fflutoriza al ejecutivo para hacer la paz con los Estados Unidos, concluir negociación con las potencias extranjeras, ni enagenar en todo ó en parte el territorio de la República," a prudent precaution given worry that Santa Anna might repeat the actions he took with the Treaty of Velasco, that the war was going badly, with all of northern Mexico lost, and that Santa-Anna had just lost the Battle of Cerro Gordo a day earlier. Dated in print April 20, 1847 and April 22, 1847.

Mexico: 1847. 1 sheet. 49 x 30.5 cm. Dublan y Lozano V: 3003.

First edition. Decree outlines the conditions for designating deserters during the invasion and occupation of Mexico by the United States. After two earlier decrees in June and July, granting amnesty to deserters, this further attempt to reclaim more troops for the defense of Mexico City was necessary. The decree defines deserters as not only soldiers of any rank who remained behind enemy lines, but "employees of the government," and military personnel more than 30 leagues from Mexico City who are not currently under attack. They have two weeks from this notice to report or will be considered deserters. Original decree by Santa Anna dated August 3, 1847, and this issue by Lombardini, dated August 7, 1847.

Manuel Maria Lombardini (1802-1853) had just taken over command of the Mexican defenses of Mexico City that month, after recuperating from his wounds in the Battle of Buena Vista, and just as Scott and the American army approached.

We could locate no copies of this broadside on OCLC though a number of other Lombardini-Santa Anna broadsides are listed. Old stab holes to left margin, chipping along edges and margins, repaired tears along two folds, minor creasing and soiling, else very good. [44736]

First edition. Decree dated February 8, 1847, and February 11, 1847. Signed in print by Olaguibel; with embossed seal in left margin. Authorization for the government of the State of Mexico to borrow 300,000 pesos, one third to be allocated to the army and the remainder to equip the National Guard, with the cost to be covered by a salary tax on government employees and taxes on alcohol, sugar, and lumber. At the time Santa Anna's army was departing from San Luis Potos to fight the Battle of Buena Vista.

Rare. No other copies located. Very good, light wear and staining to margins, minor creasing along folds, two small holes, one affecting lower portion of one letter in last word of title.

First edition. Dated and signed in print, August 6, 1847. Lamenting the "unjust and atrocious accusations" that the state of Mexico has not contributed to the war effort, the Lt. Governor provides a defense backed up with statistics, charts, and commentary regarding the war expenditures of the State of Mexico, the numbers of National Guard Forces by district, of Guerrilla fighters, and a tabulation of deserters and replacements. He notes that because of the State's vast size, its population is scattered, and therefore the State has encountered ongoing difficulties amassing men and resources, and in addition that National Government has already appropriated much of its resources, "El gobierno general impulsado por los peligros que lo crean, dispone de los ciudadanos y rentas del Estado, con grave perjuicio suyo, y en descrédito de la buena administración." However, the "State of Mexico, poor and oppressed, has managed to overcome and make very useful sacrifices... [contributing] numerous pickets and guerrillas...[who are]... going to the capital, or are in it and its surroundings, or are in front of the enemy." A good example of the finger pointing that would continue after the war years.

OCLC locates one copy at Univ. of Arizona (225643922), though lacking the top portion of the title. Old stab holes to left margin, chipped and torn along edges and folds, worm holes, a few words obscured, minor soiling, still good. [44740]

First edition. Signed with Perez Fernandez's ink paraph under his printed signature and dated, Toluca, July 5, 1847, five days after the surrender of Puebla, leaving Mexico City as the next target of the American Army. The proclamation calls for all the citizens of the State of Mexico to take up arms to defend the country's capital, Mexico City. Despite the prior taxes and privations, he declares: "those sacrifices are not enough in such critical circumstances. It is about our independence, our freedom, our honor, the honor of our wives and our daughters. To conserve it, to repair our disastrous disasters and deserve the name of the children of so many heroes who died for conquering independence with the sword in their hands, it is necessary that today, wielding all of them, we maintain, until the last stretch, that Capital of the Republic... Conciudadanos: ha llegado la hora del combate; y el gobierno alentado por vuestro patriotismo, está seguro de que os presentareis con vuestras armas á sostener la dignidad nacional."

VERACRUZ 'SOLDIERS ON' BEFORE & AFTER THE AMERICAN INVASION

49. [MEXICAN-AMERICAN WAR] [VERACRUZ]. [Archive] 25 Broadsides from Veracruz during the war, beginning: Juan Soto, gobernador constitucional del estado libre y soberano de Veracruz, á sus habitantes, sabed: 1847. 25 leaves. 46 x 30 cm to 30 x 21 cm. SOLD

Contains all but two of the 27 numbered broadside decrees issued in Veracruz in 1847, numbered 3 through 29 (1 and 2 were issued in 1846) from January through September, twelve from Jalapa before the American invasion of Veracruz, one from Santa Fe, one listed as Veracruz, and eleven from Huatusco where the government of Veracruz had retreated after the fall of Jalapa on April 19th; Huatusco was one of the towns on the line of retreat between Veracruz and Mexico City. The topics range from simple government matters such as requirements for jurors and setting up an agricultural society to numerous items related to the war, collecting war taxes, raising more soldiers, honoring an important guerrilla chief, or fulminating at the continued trade with the enemy at the port of Veracruz.

Juan Soto Ramos (1799-1859) was twice interim governor of Veracruz (1844 and 1846 -49) where he abolished the bicameral system and reformed the local constitution. A close to contemporary description of this difficult time can be found in Miguel Lerdo de Tejada: Apuntes históricos de la heroica ciudad de Vera-Cruz, Vol. II (Mexico: Garcia Torres, 1857) where he discusses Soto's efforts after the relocation of the legislature to Huatusco in July to September of 1847 (p. 583).

All but one are first editions. All are scarce. OCLC locates one copy each of three of the items, all at Yale. In general most have old stab holes in left margins, upper left corners chipped, small tears and creases where formerly folded, else very good. [44700]. CARROTS AND STICKS FOR DESERTERS AS MEXICO FACES DEFEAT

50. [MEXICAN-AMERICAN WAR] [VERACRUZ]. MARÍN, TOMÁS. Orizava, [Veracruz]: 1847. 1 sheet. 33 x 22.5 cm.

First edition. Issued three days after the Battle of Huamantla, which would be Santa Anna's last, on October 9, 1847, this broadside was yet another attempt by Veracruz to reverse the depletion of the Army through desertion, a serious impediment to the Mexican Army's fighting capacity. With prior calls promising amnesty to deserters, this one upped the ante by adding bonus payments for returning deserters, even more payment if they brought their weapons, but now also offering rewards for their apprehension if they do not return, and promising immediate trial and execution if they desert again. Clearly recognizing the urgency of the matter, the period of return has been shortened to only eight days. Dated and signed: Orizava, octubre 12 de 1847. Tomás Marin.

Tomás Francisco de Paula Marín Zabalza (1805-1873) had been an important leader in the defense of the City of Vera Cruz against the American naval invasion. At the time of this broadside he was in charge of the guerrillas that harassed the American advance. He would later side with the Conservatives in the War for Reform and serve in the Maximilian government until leaving for exile under Benito Juárez. See Mario Óscar Flores López and Ángel Amador Martínez: "Tomás Francisco de Paula Marín Zabalza "in Militares y Marinos Destacados (Armada de Mexico, 2019).

JUAN SOTO, GOBERNADOR CONSTITUCIONAL
del Estado libre y Soberano de Veracruz, considerando:

QUE la justicia, el honor nacional y la conveniencia pública, demandan imperiosamente que sostengamos con tesón y a todo trance, la guerra que ha provocado la desdichada república vecina, que con escándalo del mundo civilizado, intenta apoderarse de nuestro territorio, violando nuestros derechos y cubriendo de oprobio nuestro nombre;

Que para que la contienda naciona en que estan interesadas todas las clases de la sociedad mexicana pueda continuarse con vigor, es preciso apelar a todos los medios que nuestra situación actual nos permite;

Que reducidos a nuestros recursos actuales de defensa, es de nuestro deber desarrollarlos y emplearlos todos en sosten de la sagrada causa de la independencia, y que el sistema de guerrillas establecido por el supremo decreto de 28 del mes próximo pasado, es el mas adecuado para el intento y el unico adaptable en las actuales criticas circunstancias;

Que por lo mismo es del mayor interés facilitar todos los medios a propósito para la organización y subsistencia de las partidas que operan sobre el enemigo, asegurandoles auxilios de todas clases para sus movimientos y que no causen perjuicios a los pueblos cuando carezcan de recursos propios para su mantenimiento;

Por tanto, y en uso de las facultades conque me hallo investido, he venido en decretar lo siguiente:

Art. I.^o Para el fomento y auxilio de las guerrillas que operan en el Estado contra el ejército invasor, se crea un fondo que deberá formarse de las entradas siguientes: Primera, de la quinta parte del producto líquido de todos los efectos adquiridos legalmente por dichas guerrillas. Segunda, de los donativos de dinero ó de víveres que hagan todos los hijos del Estado que quieran contribuir generosamente para el sosten de la guerra. Tercera, de las cantidades que el Gobierno pueda aplicar para el propio objeto.

2.^o Este fondo se mantendrá separado en las oficinas de hacienda del Estado. llevándose en estas del mismo modo la respectiva cuenta que se publicará mensualmente. Los administradores y receptores quedan sujetos á una formal responsabilidad si distrajeran parte alguna del referido fondo en otro objeto que no sea el de equipar y auxiliar á las guerrillas, sin que deban suministrar cantidad alguna, sino es en virtud de orden de la autoridad política del lugar en que residieren ó de los comandantes en jefe de las guerrillas.

3.^o Guardarán los propios empleados de que los víveres que se colectaren se depositen en lugar seguro y en que no padecieran detrimento alguno. En el caso de que no hubiere un local a propósito para almacenes en las casas en que se hallen sus oficinas, podrán proporcionarlo por alquiler, con conocimiento y aprobación de la respectiva autoridad política, pagándose dicha renta del mismo fondo de guerrillas.

4.^o Para que tenga efecto el entero de la parte aplicada de los productos líquidos de lo tomado por las guerrillas, según se explica en el art. I^o, los Administradores y Receptores tomarán las medidas convenientes para adquirir una noticia circunstanciada de los efectos que se introduzcan en la población, así como del importe total de su venta. Los comisionados para esta estarán obligados a facilitar á los referidos empleados las noticias que pidan, y á enterar sin demora en la oficina respectiva la parte que queda indizada; y si, como no es de esperarse, lo resistieren dichos comisionados, el Administrador ó Receptor a quien corresponda, lo participará inmediatamente á la autoridad política para las disposiciones convenientes.

5.^o Cuando los efectos mencionados no pudieren enajenarse en el primer punto á que se dirigen y pasaren á otro para su venta, el Administrador ó Receptor del primero, además de expedir la correspondiente guia, dará aviso al del 2.^o, al fin de que verificada la enajenación, ende de percibir la parte de ella destinada al fondo de guerrillas.

6.^o Para la colección de donativos para las guerrillas, los jefes de los departamentos ó cantones reunirán juntas en las respectivas calzadas que existen, á los ciudadanos á contribuir, ya sea por una vez, ya monótonamente para tan patriótico objeto. Dichas juntas pasarán al principio de cada mes á la Administración ó Receptaría respectiva el numerario y comestibles que hayan reunido, notificándolo á la vez á la autoridad política y mandando tijer en los parajes públicos listas de los donantes para que se hagan notorios su patriotismo y generosidad.

7.^o Si al terminarse la guerra hubiere alguna existencia del fondo de guerrillas, se repartirá en justa proporción entre los individuos que hayan quedado inutilizados en la campaña, y entre las viudas de los guerrilleros que hayan sucumbido defendiendo el honor y los derechos de su patria.

Publíquese, circúlese y comuníquese a quienes corresponda para su exacta observancia. Huatusco, Mayo 31 de 1847.

Bound in: [Prospectus]. "Special Announcement. Summary of the advantages presented in the Miners and Trust Company of Pachuca." Signed in print by Executive Committee members: Geo. S. Merrill, H.B. Peirce, & C.N. Pratt. Etching of Pachuca by W.M. Tenney. S.C. Map by Heliotype Printing Co., Boston. There was much renewed interest in Mexican mining and exploiting Mexico's natural resources once it was again opened to some outside participation. "In the history of Mexican mining there are two key moments related to the participation of non-national companies, specifically of British and American origin, and for which Pachuca was a focus of great interest ... The British companies stood out in the first decades, [1860-1870] while the American companies at the end of the 19th century," See Ubilla Montiel: Inmigrantes españoles en Pachuca. 1866-1911: redes de parentesco, matrimonio y ocupación (2013) pp. 35-6. OCLC locates only a single copy, Denver Public Library. There is also one at Cornell in the Julius Augustus Skilton Archive. $300

First edition. Subtitle: "¡un hijo infame que envenena a sus padres y a una criada en Pachuca!: terrible tempestad que se desarrolla el día 8 del mes pasado." The images and narrative depict the cautionary tale of Rámon, a terrible son who poisons his parents, Dona Catarina and Don Raphael, as well as their maid. He runs off with their money, but is haunted by the ghosts of his parents. In closing, the work advises parents to read this to their children, so that they fear God by obeying their parents and always leading the way of good. OCLC locates three copies: UC Berkeley, SMU, and Ibero-Amer. Inst.

Very good, one puncture and few small tears to margin, contents lightly browned, otherwise clean. [44547]

"BURN THIS PAPER AFTER YOU'VE READ IT"

70. [RAMOS ARIZPE, MIGUEL]. [ANON]. Caricatura del Señor Ramos Arizpe. [Together with "El Manto de la Patria: cancion patriotica"]. Mexico: Impr. dirigida por T. Uribe y Alcalde, (1833). 8 pp. Sm. 8vo. Removed.

First edition. Miguel Ramos Arizpe (1775-1843) was a Mexican priest and politician, and known as the "Padre del Federalismo Mexicano" since he was president of the commission that drafted the federal Constitution in 1823. Earlier he had served in the Cádiz Cortes and was arrested when its constitution was overthrown, and only freed in 1820 after which he again participated in the reconvened Cortes. He served as Minister of Justice under various presidents, and during the time this "Caricatura" was published. He clearly pissed someone off given the tenor of this document:

"Well, imagine a dirty and disgusting monster like the harpies, smelly and salacious like the goat, ferocious and bloodthirsty like the tiger, more horrible than the Papión, it gathers all those attributes to the ugliest figure in the picture in which all the vices are personified; that his aspect withers the soul like that of the snake, and you will have the portrait, though incomplete, that you ask of me."

Apreciable y querida S.

Por qué me pides una cosa tan difícil como darte una idea de Ramos? Pero lo mandas, y para darte gusto, ya sabes que hago cuanto cabe en mí. ¿Conoces al inmundo animal, que los antiguos llamaban Sátiro y que nosotros como ellos tenemos por símbolo de la lascivia, un animal cuyo hedor anuncia la proximidad, y cuyo nombre es una injuria?

¿Sabes qué fiere es esta, cuya ferocidad ha pasado en proverbio, y que bárti de sangre, derriama sangre, sólo por el gusto de derramarla? ¿Has oido hablar de las harpias que ensuciaban todo lo que tocaban, de las furias que en el averno despedazan a los culpables?

¿Has visto esa asquerosa especie de Mono que los naturalistas llaman Papion?

¿Nunca te has asustado con el encuentro inesperado de una culebra disforme? ¿Nunca has soñado que ibas a pisarla, que la sentías debajo de tus pies desarrollar sus dobleses, abrazarte y picarte al corazón? ¿Nunca has fijado la vista en esos cuadros en que divierten su imaginación los pintores, representando al padre de la malicia con las más extrañas formas?

Pues imaginate un monstruo sucio y asqueroso.

"Ramos, Ramos, en vano prolanas el carácter sagrado, que has recibido en estado de pecado mortal; en vano has declarado la guerra a Dios; en vano, apóstata, quieres quitar a los mexicanos su religión; en tu propia cabeza escarmentarás. ¿No ves que en tu frente llevas señalada tu reprobación eterna? ¿Ignoras que tu sentencia está definitivamente pronunciada? Acuérdate: que mal paga el diablo a quien le hace bien, y que el único premio que puedes esperar de él por tus servicios, es una eternidad de suplicios en el infierno donde te espera. Ya basta, mi estimada S., solo por complacerte me decidí a vencer mi repugnancia, a hablar de este hombre. Quema este papel luego que lo hayas leído, y olvídate de cuanto contiene, menos de quien te quiere y te aprecia."

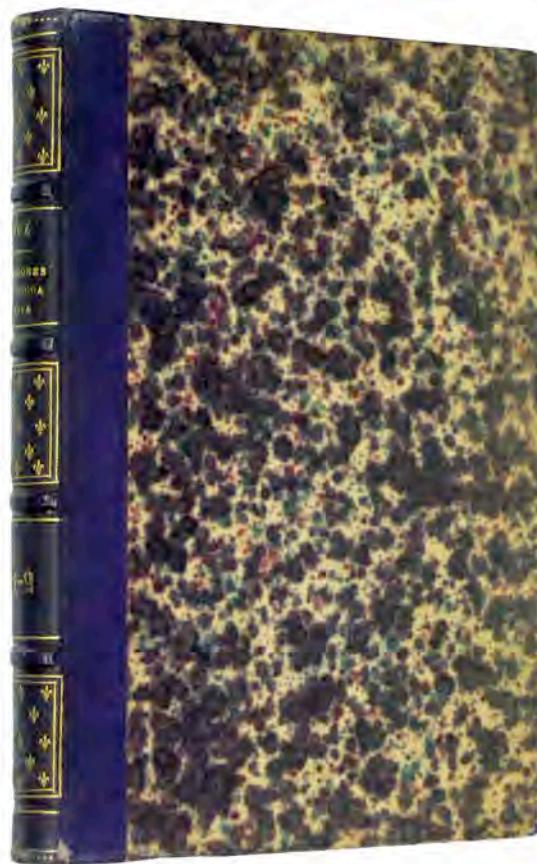

Followed by a 12 stanza poem full of despair for the loss of constitutional government under the Treaty of Zavaleta: "El manto de la patria; canción patriótica" which had a separate publication at the same time.

"Manto, que eras tan precioso, / de blanco algodón tejido / de oro y perlas guarnecido / de rojo y no coral" ; continuing "Your splendor and glory died / you are already like vile dross / thrown in a dunghill" and ending: "Su honor, limpieza y blancura, / murieron en Zavaleta, / donde la America prieta / celebra su funeral, / y del mexicano pueblo / disponen los negros hados, / queden allí -sepultados / el juicio y la cristiandad. / Manto de la Patria mía, / dónde has venido a parar?"

Rare. OCLC locates only four copies: UC Berkeley, Yale, BN Spain, and BL. BN Mexico has a copy of the poem in the Lafragua collection. Very good, ink stain & number '13' on fore edge of front wrapper, light soiling, some offsetting, a few pencil marks. [44365]

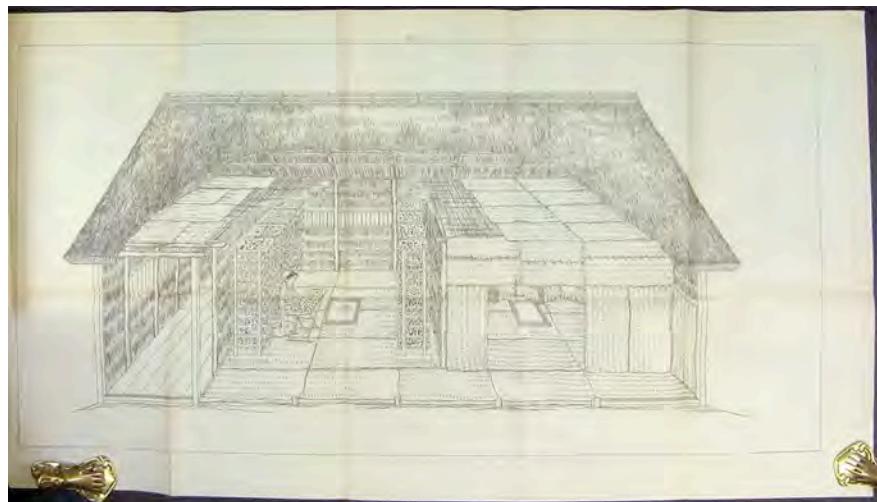

ICAZBALCETA'S COPY OF JOAQUIN RUZ' SERMONS

71. RUZ, JOAQUIN. Colección de sermones para los domingos de todo el año y cuarentena tomados de varios autores, y traducidos libremente al idioma yucateco. Quarter calf over speckled boards, four raised bands, titles & compartments decorated in gilt, marbled endpapers. Sabin 74521. Palau 283088. $300

First edition. Volumes one and two of what would eventually become four volumes published between 1846 and 1850. Tomo I: Contiene las dominicas desde Adviento hasta Quincuagesima; Tomo II. Contiene desde Ceniza, Viernes de cuaresma y dominicas hasta Pentecostes.-Provenance: Joaquin Garcia Icazbalceta, his bookplate. A very good copy, boards worn at extremities, owner's bookplate to front pastedown, a few tears affecting a tiny portion of text, light soiling and toning, occasional foxing. [44503]

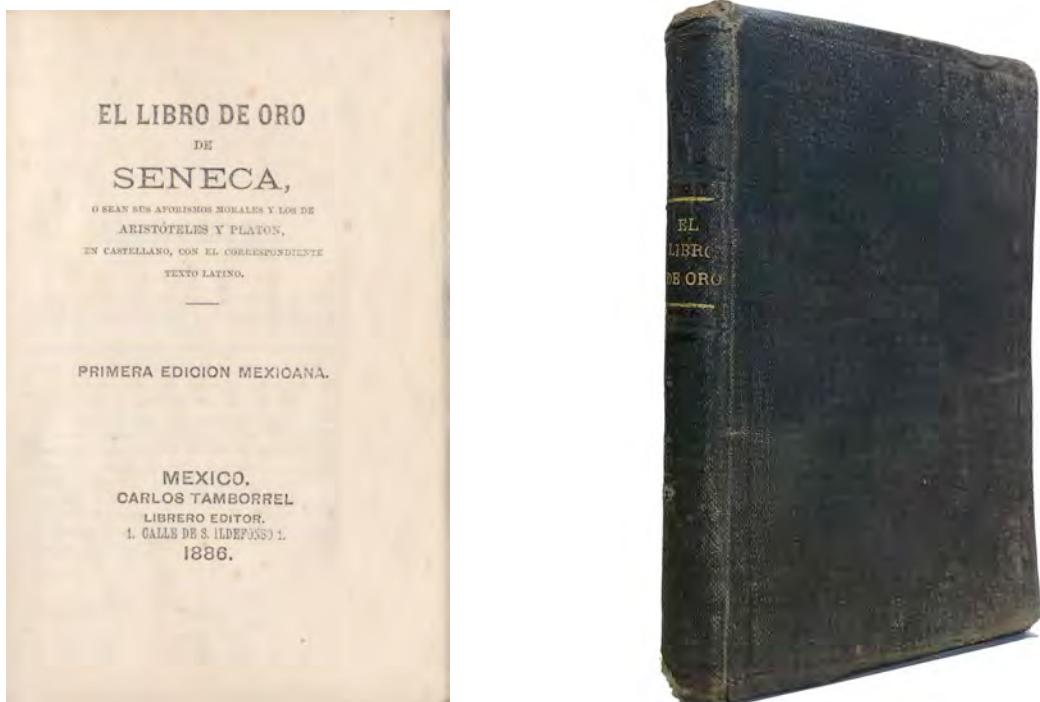

DEVELOPING A SILK INDUSTRY FOR MEXICO?

72. SECRETARIA DE FOMENTO. La Sericicultura en el Japón. México: Oficina Tipografica de la Secretaria de Fomento, 1897. 27 pp., index, [1], 25 leaves of plates. Illus. with 25 drawings, including one colored, and 4 folding. 8vo. Stitched paper wrappers. $100

First edition. A short, but detailed examination of the development of the silk industry in Japan, most likely to provide a model for government and private industry cooperation in the development of export industries in Mexico at the turn of the century. Wonderful illustrations. Quite uncommon. Wrappers chipped and soiled, contents moderately edge worn, occasional soiling, particularly to title, closed tear to inner margin and along fold on last folding drawing, plates sharp. [44442]

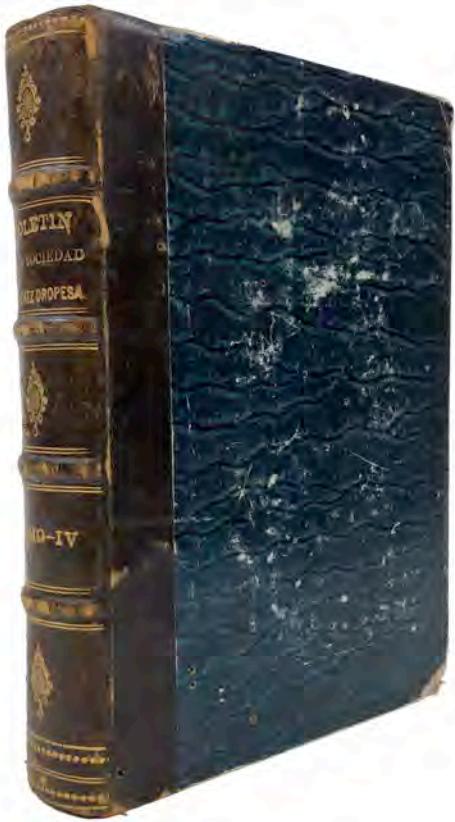

RARE MEXICAN IMPRINT OF MORAL APHORISMS

73. SÉNECA, LUCIO ANNEO. El libro de oro de Seneca, o sean [sic] sus aforismos morales y los de Aristóteles y Platon, en castillano, con el correspondiente texto latino. Mexico: Carlos Tamborrel, 1886. vi, 125 pp. 32mo. Full black cloth, ruled in blind, gilt title.

$125

Primera edición mexicana. Parallel text in Spanish and Latin. "Sea" misspelled "Sean" in the title. Apparently unrecorded version of this work. The publisher claims that no editions of this had been published in three centuries: "Estos aforismos morales, tan apreciados de los extranjeros, vieron la luz pública en 1555, en la ciudad de Coimbra, publicados por Juan Alvarez, impresor del Key, traducidos al castellano. La edición se despachó al instante, pero desde entonces hasta el presente, esto es, en el espacio de tres siglos no han sido reimpresos. Ahora vuelven á salir á luz con las correcciones y mejoras que se han juzgado convenientes en la traducción. Esta es la mejor que podia ofrecerse al público y solo sentimos no publicar por ignorarlo, el nombre del ingenioso traductor (Advertencia, p. vi). Spanish editions were published in Valencia and Madrid in 1831, also 11 cm in height , but with 255 pages. Not in OCLC nor any sources we could find. Boards rubbed, heel of spine worn, minor stains to a few leaves, overall very good. [44519]

Later stitched paper wrappers.

First edition. Negotiations over the presidency of Mexico between Potasio Tagle, Porfirio Diaz' Secretary of the Interior, and José María Iglesias (1823-1891), president of the Supreme Court and self declared President, broke down over the Iglesias' refusal to recognize the Plan de Tuxtepec, which had been proclaimed by Díaz when he had risen up against Mexican President Lerdo (whose presidency earlier has been nullified by Iglesias in his judicial capacity as President of the Mexican Supreme Court). Eventually

Díaz defeated Iglesias who fled to the United States. None located at auction and OCLC locates only 8 copies: NYPL, Yale, UC Berkeley, Univ. Texas at Austin, El Paso, and Arlington, Ibero_Amer. Inst, and ITE Mexico. Very good, wrappers toned, minor edge wear. [44453]
